FINANCE DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

Simla-4, the 16th August, 1962

No. 8/29-62-Fin(R&E).—The Rules and Syallabus governing the In-Service training of Statistical Personnel at the Directorate of Economics and Statistics, appended below, as approved by the Lieutenant Governor, Himachal Pradesh, are hereby published for the information of all concerned.

By order,
BISHAN CHANDRA,
Secretary.

IN-SERVICE TRAINING OF STATISTICAL PERSONNEL AT THE DIRECTORATE OF ECONOMICS AND STATISTICS, HIMACHAL PRADESH

1. Need for in-service training in Statistics.—In a manifold process of planning, the need for accurate statistics hardly needs any emphasis. Constant efforts are being made all over the country to improve the quality of statistics and availability of trained personnel for collection and processing of statistical data has been recognized as an essential step towards achieving this goal. The shortage of statistically trained personnel is being felt in no less degree in Himachal Pradesh than in any other part of the country. This problem is becoming more acute in view of growing demand or trained personnel, following wide expansion in Statistical activities connected with Five Year Plans and other policy decisions.

In the above background, a scheme for imparting in-service training in statistics has been sanctioned under the Pradesh's Third Five Year Plan. This scheme forms an integral part of the programme directed towards promotion and improvement of statistics in Himachal Pradesh.

2. Description of various Training Courses to be organised.—The training will be conducted under the aegis of the Directorate of Economics and Statistics, Himachal Pradesh, and shall comprise the following three types of courses:—

- Advanced Statistical Training Course.*—This Course will extend over six months and shall be divided into two terms, each of three month's duration viz. (a) First Term, and (b) Second Term.
- Basic Statistical Training Course.*—The duration of this course will be three months.
- Short Training Course in Statistics for Block*

Level Progress Assistants.—This will be of about eight weeks' duration.

5. Object.—The purpose of the above training courses is to equip with necessary statistical background all those employees of the Administration (including Territorial Council) who are no doubt engaged in the collection and processing of statistical data but are either not trained in statistics or, though having undergone some course in statistics at a University or College, are not acquainted with recent advances in theory and technique of statistical science and its application in day to day activities of the Administration. Thus the courses will be so designed as to be primarily oriented towards the needs of Government Departments.

Whereas the third type of course is meant for the training of Block Level Progress Assistants exclusively, the first two courses shall be conducted for various categories of statistical personnel as mentioned below against each:—

Advanced Statistical Training Course.	Statistical Assistants, Investigators and persons holding statistical posts of similar status and scale, initial start of which is normally not less than Rs. 150 per month.
Basic Statistical Training Course.	Computers, Field Investigators, Statistical Clerks etc.

The object of dividing the Advanced Statistical Training Course into two terms is, (a) to allow exemption to the extent of undergoing only the Second Term to promotees who will have already passed the Basic Statistical Training Course, and (b) to make a provision for comprehensive training for direct recruits, who, otherwise well-qualified, need to be acquainted with the desired background of official statistics and statistical techniques as applied in various fields of research, administrative activities (including planning) etc.

4. Eligibility.—The minimum qualification for admission to advanced Statistical Training Course will at least be a degree in Mathematics/Economics/or Commerce. However, under-graduate promotees whose promotion to the cadre of Statistical Assistants or Investigators shall have been governed inter alia, by their (a) completing the requisite number of years of service in the next lower grade, and (b) passing the Basic Statistical Training Course, will also be admitted to the Second Term of this Course and, on successful completion of the second term, will be awarded a certificate of having passed the advanced course in accordance with the procedure laid down under section 14 of these Rules. Admission to the Basic Statistical Training Course shall be made from among the categories of personnel as indicated in section 3 above. Whereas, admission to these courses will be generally governed both by seniority and merit of the candidates, the need of sponsoring Departments shall also be given due consideration.

The Short Training Course in Statistics which is meant exclusively for Block Level Progress Assistants will be open to all untrained Block Level Progress Assistants.

5. Terms and Conditions.—Every Government servant either holding a statistical post of any one of the categories specified above or working on a post, though not designated as such, whose work is essentially connected with collection and processing of statistical data shall have to undergo the Training Course specified for the category in which his post falls. Passing of the prescribed course will thus be one of the essential conditions for:

- confirmation in the case of probationers;
- continuance in service in respect of those appointed on temporary posts; and
- promotion to next higher grade.

Other things being equal, Block Level Progress Assistants, after having passed the Short Training Course in Statistics, shall be eligible for appointment to next higher posts and can compete with others who might have passed the Basic Statistical Training Course. After such appointment, however, they shall have to undergo and complete successfully the full term of six months prescribed for the Advanced Statistical Training Course.

Before admission to any of the courses a candidate shall be required to execute a bond (as in Appendix-I) to serve the Administration for a specified period or to reimburse a specified amount to the Administration as mentioned below:—

	Period	Amount (Rs.)
Advanced Statistical Training Course:	(a) For full Three years course.	2,000
	(b) For second One and a half years. Term only.	1,000
Basic Statistical Training Course.	One and a half years.	500
Short Training Course in Statistics for Block Level Progress Assistants.	One year	400

The above terms and conditions shall be notified to all the Departments for guidance in the drafting of Recruitment and Promotion Rules for Statistical personnel and in matters of sponsoring candidates for undergoing a particular course of training in Statistics.

6. Programme of Training.—The Courses shall comprise of lectures, laboratory work, assisted reading, field work for collection of data, demonstration of mechanical equipment for processing of data etc.

7. Place.—The Courses will be conducted at Simla in the Directorate of Economics and Statistics, Himachal Pradesh.

8. Class hours.—Classes will ordinarily be held during office hours. However, in respect of sessions to be conducted exclusively for employees of the Offices located at Simla (Kasumpti), the classes will be held from 2 P.M. to 6 P.M.

9. Expenses of Trainees.—No tuition fee will be charged. The trainees shall be treated on duty and all expenses towards their pay, allowances etc., during the course of training shall be borne by the respective Departments. The trainees coming from places outside Simla shall be paid travelling allowance according to rules and where no other allowances except D.A. is admissible shall also be granted compensatory and other allowances as admissible at Simla. The liability for payment of such allowances also shall be that of the sponsoring Department.

The candidates will have to make their own arrangements for board and lodging during the period of training.

10. Number of Trainees.—To start with, about ten candidates will be admitted to each session of a course.

11. Curriculum.—The syllabi for the Training Courses will be as given in Appendix-II.

12. Attendance.—Trainees are required to attend all lectures and practical classes. For unavoidable reasons, like illness etc., a written permission for absence shall have to be solicited from the Director of Economics and Statistics. However, a minimum attendance of 80 per cent will be one of the necessary requirements for the certificate of successful completion of each course.

13. Examinations.—The theoretical and practical tests to be held at suitable intervals during each course of training are listed below:—

Basic Statistical Training Course:

- Official Statistics.
- Five Year Plans and Community Development.
- Auxiliary Mathematics.
- Statistical Methods.
- Applied Statistics.

Advanced Statistical Training Course:

First Term: As for Basic Statistical Training Course.
Second Term:

- Official Statistics.
- Auxiliary Mathematics.
- Statistical Methods.
- Applied Statistics.

Short Training Course in Statistics for Block Level Progress Assistants:

- I. Official Statistics and Economic Concepts.
- II. Community Development Programme and Administrative Intelligence.
- III. Statistical Methods.
- IV. Sample Survey.

14. Award of Certificates.—For a pass a trainee must secure at least 40 per cent marks in all the theoretical papers and 60 per cent in the practical papers.

The successful candidates will be awarded certificates as follows:—

- (i) Candidates who secure less than 60 per cent marks in the aggregate will receive a certificate of having completed the course successfully.
- (ii) A candidate who secures 60 per cent or more but less than 75 per cent marks in the aggregate will be awarded a certificate of having completed the course successfully and with credit.
- (iii) A candidate who secures 75 per cent or more marks in the aggregate will be awarded a certificate of having completed the course successfully with credit and distinction.

The overall percentage of marks for advanced Statistical Training Course in respect of trainees who will complete this course by parts i.e., Basic Course followed by the Second Term of Advanced Course (as per provisions of section 2 above) shall be based on his aggregate performance at all tests during both these parts.

15. Failures.—The unsuccessful candidates will not be given any certificate of any kind whatsoever and will be deemed at par with those who have not taken the training. However, an unsuccessful candidate may, on application duly recommended by the concerned Head of Department, be permitted to take the next examination without attending classes in the papers in which he has failed. The marks already obtained by him in other papers in which he has passed will be taken into account while awarding the certificate.

If a candidate absents himself from any test for any reason whatsoever, he shall be regarded as having secured zero marks in that test.

16. Application for admission.—Each year the commencement of a new session of a course will be announced and given wide publicity among all the Departments/Offices of the Administration and Territorial Council. Applications for admission to the Training Courses will be made in the prescribed form (vide Appendix-III) to the Director of Economics and Statistics, Himachal Pradesh. No application shall be considered unless it has been forwarded with prescribed endorsement by the Head of Department concerned.

17. Deciding Authority.—All decisions regarding selection for admission of the candidates to the Training Courses as also during the course of training will be taken by the Finance Secretary and will be binding on the sponsoring Departments as well as on the trainees.

APPENDIX II

SYLLABI

I. BASIC STATISTICAL TRAINING COURSE

A. OFFICIAL STATISTICS

(i) National and State Statistical Systems: Need for and functions of National Statistical System, types of Statistical Systems, different Statistical Organisations at the Centre; set-up functions and responsibilities; evolution of Statistical System in Himachal Pradesh.

(ii) Sources of Official Statistics.

(iii) Population Statistics: Indian Census—historical background; planning, organisation with special reference to the latest census; types of data collected; definitions and classification, processing and tabulation; sampling in census work.

(iv) Health and Vital Statistics: Source, birth and death registration.

(v) Educational Statistics: Sources and use; method and agency for collection.

(vi) Agricultural Statistics: Area and land utilisation statistics; irrigation statistics; crop forecasts; estimate of yield of principal crops—traditional and crop-cutting methods; land tenure system; agricultural marketing; agricultural wages; agricultural prices—retail, wholesale and harvest.

(vii) Climate and Rainfall Statistics.

(viii) Forest Statistics.

(ix) Livestock and Veterinary Statistics.

(x) Fishery Statistics.

(xi) Industrial, Labour and Mining Statistics: Census of Manufacturing Industries and Annual Survey of Industries; sources and type of industrial statistics; labour statistics, statistics of small scale and cottage industries; mining statistics.

(xii) Transport and Communication Statistics: Statistics of rail and road transport; road statistics; communication statistics; airlines and navigation statistics.

(xiii) Statistics of Employment and Un-employment; Present position; Employment Exchange data; census of State Government Employees.

(xiv) Co-operative Statistics: Sources, method of collection and type of data collected.

(xv) Public Finance Statistics: Revenue and Expenditure of Central and State Governments.

(xvi) Miscellaneous Statistics: Joint stock companies; Local Bodies and Panchayats; Police and crimes; judicial and administrative; amusement; civil supplies; trade unions; power; excise; income tax; social and electoral statistics.

B. FIVE YEAR PLANS AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

(i) Five Year Plans.—Planning in India—its aims towards setting up of a Welfare State and a Socialistic Pattern of Society; concept of "People's Plan" and role of Panchayats. Objectives of the three Plans as laid down by the Planning Commission. How do these Plans differ in their emphasis and priorities, propose to reduce inequalities in income and wealth and tackle the unemployment problem? Local Development works programme. Composition of the National Plans and financial allocation to various heads of development; deficit financing; foreign exchange resources and balance of payments etc. The Five Year Plans of Himachal Pradesh their objectives and contents; financial allocation to various sectors etc. Evaluation of progress under Plan Schemes—State Planning Board and State Planning Committee along with their functions; registration of Plan Schemes; reporting of financial and physical progress under Plan Schemes at periodical intervals and the forms prescribed for the purpose. Need for special studies for the assessment of impact of Plans of social and economic conditions of the people; description of studies to be made as prescribed by the Government of India and studies initiated in Himachal Pradesh. Plan progress reviews—Organisation of work—programme; collection and analysis of data; presentation of report.

(ii) Community Development.—Historical background of the programme. Concept, scope and objective; Community Development as envisaged by the Planning Commission; Indo-U.S. Technical Co-operation programme; Main lines of activity. Administrative set-up—functions and activities of the Ministry of Community Development, State Development, Department and Block Personnel; People's participation in the programme.

Recent developments—Detailed study of the recommendations of Study Team on Plan Projects and other Committees appointed for the purpose by the Government of India from time to time. Re-phasing of the programme including the staffing pattern and Schematic Budgets. Types of Special Blocks with emphasis on Tribal Development Blocks.

Panchayati Raj and its role in C. D. Programme.

(iii) Administrative Intelligence relating to C.D. Programme.—The concept and scope of administrative intelligence and its role in Planning and execution of the programme. Administrative intelligence set-up at the Centre, State, Block and Village levels. Basic village and block surveys—need for such a survey; schedules prescribed along with concepts and definitions of terms used. Periodical progress reports—forms prescribed for the monthly, quarterly and annual progress reports along with explanations of various terms used and method of scrutiny; analysis and presentation of final reports. Records (including maps) maintained by Village Level Workers, Progress Assistants and Extension Officers and those maintained at District/Pradesh levels. Maintenance of Principal Statistical lists for Blocks and the Village Index Card. Methods of fixing targets and categorisation of Blocks on the basis of their performance. Charts and diagrams for presentation of data relating to C. D. Programme.

C. AUXILIARY MATHEMATICS

Permutation and combination Binomial Theorem. Logarithms.

D. STATISTICAL METHODS

Definition, functions and importance of statistics, relation of statistics to sciences; planning a statistical enquiry; collection, editing, classification and tabulation of data; frequency distributions; diagrammatic and graphical representation of data. Simple/derivatives. Measures of Central Tendency—Mode, Median, Quartiles, Arithmetic Average and Weighted Average; Geometric and Harmonic Means. Measures of Dispersion—Range, Mean Deviation, Standard Deviation and Quartile Deviation. Co-efficient of Variation. Cumulative distribution. Ogive and Percentiles, Lorenz Curve. Moments of distribution. Skewness and Kurtosis. Probability—elementary notion, dependent and independent events, addition and multiplication theorems, simple problems on dice and cards. Interpolation: For equal intervals—Newton's formula; for unequal intervals—Lagrange's formula and Newton's formula of divided difference (without proof).

Elementary notions of Binomial and Normal distributions with practical examples (without mathematical treatment).

Association of attributes—consistence, criterion of independence, association and disassociation. Elementary idea of correlation—meaning of correlation, measurement of correlation co-efficient in simple cases; Rank correlation.

Structure of analysis of variance table, and its use.

E. APPLIED STATISTICS

(i) Sample Surveys.—Census versus sample survey. Definition of various terms—sampling frame, sampling unit and population. Purposive and probability sampling. Random sampling concept, use of random numbers and selection of random sample. Methods of sampling—simple random sampling with and without replacement, systematic sampling and sampling with probability proportional to size. Variance of estimate under random sampling.

Bias in sample survey. Sampling and Non-sampling errors.

Stratified sampling (elementary notions).

Multistage sampling (elementary notions).

Designing schedules, interview techniques, scrutiny of schedule.

Sample Survey of current interest—Crop Estimation Surveys, Family Budget Enquiries, Surveys for estimating the area brought under improved agricultural practices, Rural Labour Enquiry; other surveys of interest in Himachal Pradesh; N.S.S.

(ii) Design of Experiment.—Replication, Randomisation, Local, Control, Completely Randomised Design, Randomised Block Design, Latin Square. Structure of analysis of variance for these designs.

(iii) Applied Economic Statistics.—Index Numbers—concept, use and general characteristics of index numbers, construction of index number of wholesale prices and of agricultural production. Analysis of Time Series—measurement of secular trend through the use of free hand curves and moving averages methods. Basic idea about National and State income.

(iv) Demographic Statistics.—Measurement of growth of population. Computation of birth, death and reproduction rates.

II. ADVANCE STATISTICAL TRAINING COURSE

First Term

Same as for Basic Statistical Training Course.

Second Term

A. OFFICIAL STATISTICS

(i) Health and Vital Statistics—statistics of morality, morbidity and fertility; improvement of population data.

(ii) Educational Statistics—limitations and scope for improvement.

(iii) Agricultural Statistics—census of agriculture; recent improvements in agricultural statistics.

(iv) Industrial and Labour Statistics—recent improvements in industrial and labour statistics including labour enquiries etc.

(v) Trade Statistics—statistics of foreign and internal trade.

(vi) Transport Statistics—analysis of data about the working of transport undertakings and railways.

(vii) Housing Statistics—present system of collection; defects; need for further improvement.

(viii) Statistics of Employment and Unemployment—employment and unemployment surveys including concepts, definitions etc.

(ix) Co-operative Statistics—further improvements in co-operative statistics.

(x) Monetary Statistics—Statistics of banking and money circulation; balance of payments.

(xi) Public Finance Statistics—method of classification and interpretation of various items. Budget analysis for presentation of data in "Budget-in-brief" and budget analysis for State Income Estimate.

B. AUXILIARY MATHEMATICS

Co-ordinates of a point and equation of straight line. Elementary Differentiation. Elementary Integration.

C. STATISTICAL METHODS

Probability—Laws of total and compound probability, repeated trials. Elements of inverse probability—Baye's theorem. Frequency and density functions. Expectation and variance. Chebyshev's Lemma. The Law of large numbers. Interpolation—General properties of Newton's differences and divided differences and proof of the formulae.

Normal and Poisson's distribution as limiting forms of Binomial distribution, calculation of constant of these distributions. Multinomial, Negative Binomial and Hyper-geometric distributions with practical examples.

Correlation co-efficient of grouped series and interpretation of co-efficient of correlation. Regression—definition, co-efficient of regression, regression equations. Computation of ratio of variation and its measurement by use of Galton Graph. Correlation ratio.

Statistical Inference—criteria for good estimators (elementary notions). Confidence intervals. Test of hypothesis—Null hypothesis, level of significance and power of a test; likelihood ratio method. Test of significance—standard errors of means, variance and correlation co-efficient and their use with illustrative examples; Student 'T', Fisher's 'Z' and 'F' and their uses. Distribution of correlation and regression co-efficients. 'Chi-square' distribution—goodness of fit. Analysis of variance—derivation of within and between sum of squares, residual error with practical application.

D. APPLIED STATISTICS

(i) Sample Surveys.—Bias in sample survey. Sampling and non-sampling errors.

Stratified sampling with proportional and optimum allocations, calculation of variance of estimate in each case, cost and variance functions.

Cluster sampling—calculation of standard error of its estimate.

Ratio estimate.

Analysis of data and drafting reports.

(ii) Design of experiment.—Derivation of sum of squares for rows, columns, treatments and their interaction for Randomised Block Design, Completely Randomised Design and Latin Square. Factorial experiment and confounding.

(iii) Applied Economic Statistics.—Construction of index numbers of consumer prices, industrial production, value and volume of export and import etc. Improvements in the construction of current Index Numbers in India. Analysis of Time Series—measurement of secular trend through the use of least square method, seasonal index and cyclical movements. Demand analysis: income-expenditure relation for Family Budget data. Demand functions on basis of time series data.

National and State income—methods of computation; capital formation.

(iv) Demographic Statistics.—Methods of population projection. Life table. Logistic curve.

III. SHORT TRAINING COURSE IN STATISTICS FOR BLOCK LEVEL PROGRESS ASSISTANTS

A. COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

Historical background Concept, scope and objectives; Community Development as envisaged by Planning Commission; Indo- U.S. Technical co-operation programme; Main lines of activity.

Administrative set-up: Functions and activities of the Ministry of Community Development, State Development Department and Block personnel; People's participation.

Recent Developments: Recommendations of Study Team on Plan Projects; Re-phasing of the programme including the staffing pattern and the Schematic Budgets.

Types of special blocks with emphasis on Tribal Development Blocks.

Panchayati Raj and its role in Community Development Programme.

B. SYSTEM OF OFFICIAL STATISTICS

(i) National and State Statistical System: Need for and functions of National Statistical System; types of Statistical Systems; Indian Statistical System and a brief account of Statistical Organisation at the centre; evolution of Statistical System in Himachal Pradesh.

(ii) Sources of Official Statistics.

(iii) Population Statistics: Indian Census—historical background, scope and objectives; planning organisation and administration with special reference to 1961 census; type of data to be collected; definitions and classifications of items with reference to 1961 census.

(iv) Agricultural Statistics: area and land utilisation statistics with detailed classification; crop forecasts—number and nature of forecasts and due dates of their publication; estimate of yield of principal crops—traditional and crop cutting methods; land tenure and land holdings. Agricultural marketing, agricultural wages, agricultural prices—retail, wholesale and harvest prices. Irrigation statistics—net area irrigated according to source and gross area irrigated according to crops. Recent improvements in agricultural statistics.

(v) Forest Statistics: Classification of forest areas, outturn of forest production.

(vi) Livestock and Veterinary Statistics.

(vii) Fishery Statistics.

(viii) Climate and Rainfall Statistics.

(ix) Health and Vital Statistics.

(x) Educational Statistics.

(xi) Transport Statistics.

(xii) Industrial Statistics.

(xiii) Co-operation Statistics.

(xiv) Statistics of Employment and Unemployment.

(xv) Statistics of Local Bodies.

(xvi) Plan Statistics.

C. IMPORTANT ECONOMIC CONCEPTS

Household, earning and non-earning dependents. Employment, unemployment and under-employment. Capital—from financial as well as physical side i.e., paid up capital, borrowing, free reserves on one side and fixed capital, working capital etc., on the other. Book value, replacement value, market value of fixed assets. Depreciation, income, consumer-expenditure, consumer durable goods. National and State income. Capital formation.

D. ADMINISTRATIVE INTELLIGENCE RELATING TO C.D. PROGRAMME

The concept of administrative intelligence and its role in planning and execution of the Programme. Administrative intelligence set-up at the Centre, State, District, Block and Village levels. Scope and content of administrative intelligence. Basic village survey and block survey—the need for such a survey, the schedules prescribed for the purpose, concepts and definitions of the terms used and procedures of collection of information. Periodical Progress Reports—Monthly, Quarterly and Annual, forms prescribed for these reports, method of filling them and time schedule for their submission. Analysis and presentation of final reports. Records including maps to be maintained by V.L.W. and method of checking them. Records including maps maintained by the Progress Assistants and Extension Officers, various official statistics originating from the Extension Officers and their scrutiny vis-a-vis Block Progress Reports. Method of fixing targets. Categorisation of Block/V.L.W. Circles on the basis of their performance—Principal statistical lists for Blocks. Prescribed charts and diagrams for presentation of data relating to C.D. Programme. Survey relating to area brought under Improved Agricultural Practices. Development—Expenditure study. Village Index Card.

E. ELEMENTARY STATISTICAL METHODS

Scope of Statistics—collection, compilation and tabulation of data; continuous and discrete variables; frequency and cumulative frequency distributions; histogram, frequency polygon, diagrammatic and graphical presentation of data. Measures of Central Tendency—Arithmetic Mean, Median Mode, Geometric Mean, calculation of these from Primary data and frequency distribution, comparison and use of different measures. Measures of Dispersion—Range, Standard Deviation, Quartile Deviation, methods of computation and comparative merits.

Standard Distributions—Elementary ideas of Normal and Binomial distributions and their important properties. Simple notions of probability and standard error. Elementary notions of regression and correlation. Contingency table.

Simple Experimental Design—completely randomised, and randomised block designs.

Construction of Index Numbers—system of weighing, uses of arithmetic and geometric means, practical illustrations on construction of cost of living and wholesale price index numbers.

F. SAMPLE SURVEYS

Census versus sample survey, purposive sampling, probability sampling, simple random, systematic and sampling with probability proportional to size, use of random number lists.

Estimation of the population mean under simple random sampling and estimation of its variance. Bias in sample survey, sampling and non-sampling errors.

Stratified sampling, estimate of population mean, variance of the estimate.

Two-stage sampling, method of estimating mean and its variance, illustrative example—crop estimation surveys

Socio-economic surveys, study of schedules, choice of frame for sampling, pilot investigations and the need for them.

G. OFFICE PROCEDURE

Rules of conduct and discipline, procedures of correspondence and office notings, methods of keeping records, leave and travel rules, preparation of T.A. bills.

H. FIELD TRAINING

Village Level Training: Examination of Patwari records, Panchayat records, records relating to Co-operative Societies and V.L.W.'s records.

Field work relating to (a) Survey relating to area brought under Improved Agricultural Practices, and (b) preparation of Village Index Cards.

Block Level Training.—Block Level records. Basic Statistical Register. Quarterly Progress Report. Annual Progress Report. Other Reports.

PANCHAYATS DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

Simla-4, the 13th September, 1962

No. Pnt. 70-162/56-II.—With reference to Panchayat Department notification of even number, dated 28th March, 1962 and in exercise of the powers vested in me under section 136 of Himachal Pradesh Panchayat Raj Act, 1952, I, R. S. Rai, the Director of Panchayats hereby enforce the following bye-laws from the date of issue of this notification.

DRAFT BYE-LAWS

Short title and commencement.—(a) These Bye-laws may be called The Gram Panchayat Bye-laws.

(b) They shall come into force with immediate effect.

1. No person shall defecate within the radius of 100 yards from the drinking water source and in no case in any public place. In case of infants, sick, and infirm the head of the family shall be responsible for the disposal of the night soil.

2. No person or persons shall take bath, wash clothes, clean utensils or clean any part of his/her or their body or bodies which may result in pollution and contamination of water source which is used for drinking purposes.

3. The Gram Panchayat shall prohibit members or servant of any family in which there is a suspected case of Cholera, or any other communicable disease from fetching water from any source used for drinking purposes. The Gram Panchayat shall arrange supply of water to the members of such a family and servants before passing an order under this bye-law.

4. The Panchayat shall prohibit the use of water from any Bowli or spring for any specific period where it is feared that the use of such water is likely to cause danger to the health.

5. The water thus declared prohibited shall not be used unless the gram panchayat vacates its order to this effect or declares the water fit for use in a manner to make it known to every inhabitant of the area.

6. Should any building or a land be in a filthy, unhealthy or dilapidated condition, the panchayat shall require the owner or the occupier thereof to clean or put it otherwise in a proper state and thereafter to maintain its condition.

7. No person or persons having his or their houses on either side of the public street in the area of Gram Panchayat shall be allowed the discharge of water from his or their houses which might cause the spread of any sort of disease or cause inconvenience to residents of the locality or passers-by.

8. No disposal of the refuse from the cow-sheds shall be made except at places reserved for the purpose and the place shall not be nearer than 200 yards from the human habitation. The refuse shall not be allowed to remain near cow-shed vicinity for more than five days at the most otherwise it will lead to fly breeding.

9. No offensive matter, rubbish and night soil shall be allowed to be thrown about except the places provided for the purpose.

10. Any person having his shop or stall in any market or fair, shall clean up daily before 10 A.M. and shall not allow any rubbish, dirt, withered leaves or other obnoxious matter remain outside the receptacles provided for the purpose.

11. No person shall store in his house hay, wood or any other inflammable material except in a separate store room or hut allowing a clear space of six feet from the surrounding buildings.

12. Every school within the jurisdiction of the panchayat shall have sanitary provisions like latrines and urinals. (It does not matter if schools are under the Territorial Council. The Panchayat can take up the matter with Territorial Council if these things are missing in a school building).

13. No person shall make excavations within 200 yards from the outer most house in the village which may result in stagnation of water and may breed mosquitoes and other insects.

14. At the outbreak of any of the communicable diseases in the panchayat area, information thereof shall immediately be notified to the nearest Primary Health Centre and the disease shall be reported to the Secretary of the Panchayat by the head of the family or nearest relative where a case has occurred.

The Public Health staff at the outbreak of such an epidemic shall get all the inhabitants of the area vaccinated or inoculated against these diseases with the co-operation of the panchayat of the area.

15. Every resident of the village shall report any leprosy case found in the village to the nearest Primary Health Centre.

16. Every inhabitant of the Panchayat area and other roofed structure including cattle shed, shall get his house sprayed and report the occurrence of any case of fever in his house to the surveillance worker of the area.

17. Every individual in the Panchayat area shall get himself tested and vaccinated against T.B. under the Mass B.C.G. Campaign. Any case of T.B. in the area shall be reported to the Primary Health Centre.

18. The occurrence of notifiable diseases like enteric fever, measles, small-pox, diphtheria, cholera, etc., etc., shall at once be reported to the Doctor in charge of the Primary Health Centre and a report to that effect shall be sent to the Director of Health Services, Himachal Pradesh, Simla.

19. No person shall dispose of corpses and carcasses at any place or places except those set apart for the purpose by the Panchayat.

20. The Panchayat shall be competent to ask the owner of an animal/animals suffering from contagious disease to keep the diseased animal/animals separate from other animals and to restrict or prohibit the movement of such animal/animals.

21. No person shall use any public street or public place within the jurisdiction of the Gram Panchayat for his personal ends without the permission of the Panchayat.

22. No person shall set up a shop, stall, merry go round or any show for public amusement in any market place or fair managed by the Gram Panchayat without the written permission of the Gram Panchayat and on payment of rent assessed by the panchayat.

23. It shall be the responsibility of the villagers through whose village a panchayat road or path passes or in whose village bridge is situated, to repair and maintain the same suo moto or at the direction of the panchayat. Any person refusing to render his share of contribution shall be liable to pay a penalty of Rs. 10 in addition to the amount of his share.

24. Any person found guilty by the Nyaya Panchayat of a breach of any of the above bye-laws shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to Rs. 10 and if the breach is a continuing one with a further fine which may extend to Re. 1 for every day after the date of the first conviction during which the offender is proved to have persisted in the offence.

RAM SINGH RAI,
Director.

THE INSTITUTE OF CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS OF INDIA

NOTIFICATION

(CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS)

No. 1-CA (14)/60.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 30 of the Chartered Accountants Act, 1949 (XXXVIII of 1949), the Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India has made the following amendment in the Chartered Accountants Regulations, 1949, the same having been previously published and approved by the Central Government as required under sub-section (3) of the said section.

In the said Regulations:

1. Re-number the existing Regulation 84 as sub-regulation (1) of Regulation 84 and add the following further sub-regulations, namely:—

“(2) The Council may, at its discretion, refuse to register to trade or firm name if such name is already being used by a chartered accountant in practice or by a firm of such chartered accountants and is already entered in the Register of Offices and Firms.

(3) In cases where identical trade or firm names are already in use and are entered in the Register of Offices and Firms at the time of coming into force of these provisions, the Council, may direct the member or firm concerned whose trade or firm name was entered in the Register of Offices and Firms subsequent to the entry in the said Register of the earlier one, to alter the name in such manner as the Council may consider proper. The change shall be effected and intimated to the Council for approval within a period of six months of the issue of a direction to this effect by the Council.

(4) (i) No member shall practise under a trade or firm name which has been refused registration under sub-regulation (2) above.

(ii) No member shall practise under a trade or firm name for which the Council has directed, under sub-regulation (3) above, an alteration, after the expiry of six months from the date of issue of such direction.

(5) Nothing contained in this Regulation shall debar a firm of chartered accountants in practice from using a name which is identical with the name of another firm already in use and already entered in the Register of Offices and Firms, if at least one of the partners in the firms is common.”
